Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America; this includes the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Opinion

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Northern California Community Blood Bank as of June 30, 2017, and the changes in its net assets and its cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

1. Organization & Nature of Activities-

The Northern California Community Blood Bank (The Blood Bank) is a not-for-profit corporation organized under Internal Revenue Code Section 501(c)(3) and governed by volunteers.

The organization's mission is to provide a safe and adequate supply of blood and other blood services to patients, physicians and hospitals.

The Blood Bank operates a blood collection facility in Eureka, California. In addition to this facility, The Blood Bank operates three blood mobiles for community collection.

2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies-

Basis of Presentation

The Blood Bank uses the accrual basis of accounting.

Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect certain reported amounts and disclosures. Accordingly, actual results could differ from those estimates.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

For purposes of the statement of cash flows, the Blood Bank considers all highly liquid investments with an initial maturity of one year or less to be cash equivalents. Investments in savings bonds and stock securities are not considered cash equivalents as these funds are not readily available for operation use.

Accounts Receivable

Accounts receivable are stated at unpaid balances less an allowance for doubtful accounts. Based on experience in previous years, management has determined that the allowance for doubtful accounts should be zero. Any debts or bad check realized above this level are immediately recognized as an expense.

Inventories

Inventories and cost of supplies are stated at cost on a first-in, first-out basis and verified by physical count at the end of each fiscal year. Blood and Blood Product inventories are computed using the retail method. Cost of goods manufactured is calculated using all costs, including overhead.

2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies, Continued-

Land, Buildings and Equipment

Acquisitions of goods or services which benefit more than one year are capitalized and amortized over their estimated useful lives by the straight-line method. Assets over $2,500.00 are capitalized.

Accrued Paid Time Off

The Blood Bank maintains a Paid Time Off (PTO) program which combines vacation, holiday and sick benefits into a single PTO bank. All regular and part time employees are eligible and accruals are based on lengths of service.

Certain employees are also eligible for disability leave. Compensated absences for disability pay have not been accrued since they cannot be reasonably estimated. The organization's policy is to recognize these costs when actually paid.

Retirement

The Blood Bank maintains a 403(b) tax deferred annuity plan with Lincoln National Life Insurance Company. The program requires contributions by both the employer and the employee if election to be covered is made. Employer contributions are based on the length of service and amount of employee elective contributions ranging from 1% to 6% of the employees annual salary. All contributions are 100% vested.

Contributed Services

Non-professional contributed services and blood donations have not been recorded in these financial statements.

Restricted and Unrestricted Net Assets

The Blood Bank reports its financial statements in accordance with Statement of Financial Accounting Standards (SFAS) No. 117, "Financial Statements of Not-for Profit Organizations." Under SFAS No. 117, the Agency is required to report information regarding its financial position and activities according to three classes of net assets:

Unrestricted net assets are the part of net assets of the Organization that is neither permanently restricted nor temporarily restricted by donor-imposed stipulations. Temporarily restricted net assets are those whose use by the Organization has been limited by donors to a specific time period or purpose.

Permanently restricted net assets have been restricted by donors to be maintained by the Organization in perpetuity.

The Blood Bank has no temporarily restricted or permanently restricted net assets.

2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies, Continued-
